MEET AMBER -
Her Dream House Has Become Reality

Like many of us, Amber dreamed about a perfect life when she grew up. However, ten years ago, Amber found herself in a situation she never thought she’d encounter: pregnant and homeless. She had decided to leave her baby’s father, so she and her daughter could live a life free of issues that were becoming apparent due to his excessive drinking.

Amber, who was working and going to college at the time, applied for Section 8 housing, only to find out the waiting list was closed. Amber’s mother had heard of Partners for Affordable Housing’s Theresa House shelter, and helped her get connected. Amber fortunately was able to move in right away.

Baby Bella came early, which came with another set of challenges. Partners’ staff served as mentors and life-skills navigators, and helped Amber get into Partners’ Transitional Housing program so Amber could focus on parenting, working, and going to school.

Since her time spent at Theresa House, Amber has learned the lessons of forgiveness and has made peace with Bella’s father. Amber earned an Associate’s Degree in Clinical Assisting, and she is now married to Scott, a former coworker, who has known Bella since she was two. He has been very supportive of her success.

“Though, and know that whatever I’m facing now, I will get through it, too.”

Amber and Scott have added a son to their family. They have a nice home with a yard for the children to play. Amber is happy to share that this is her Barbie Dream-house, all made possible because she got a little help when she needed it.

When asked if she had any words of wisdom for other women in her previous situation, Amber shares, “keep thinking positively and believing that you will get out. Where you are today is not where you will be tomorrow. Also celebrate small victories, like getting an A on a test or potty training your child. I hope they feel they are worthy and realize they have the ability to reach their dreams.

Amber adds, “my new dreams are to be out of debt and go back to school for a degree in nursing. Then I want us to see the world.”

“Partners was a Godsend for me. I had hit rock-bottom and didn’t know what resources were available to me,” Amber said. “They helped me celebrate small parenting wins and encouraged me to keep persevering. They never made me feel ‘less than’ for being homeless.”

Partners’ Transitional Housing Program provides case management and rental assistance for families in similar situations to Amber’s. Blue Earth County and neighboring Nicollet County are considered Severe Cost-Burdened and Cost-Burdened counties by State demographers, respectively. This program requires clients to pay 30% of their income towards rent, enabling them to catch up on expenses and save for their future.
Last summer, you may have read about exciting news to better serve our community. A generous, anonymous ministry purchased the St. Peter Motel (located on Union Street next to Lagers in St. Peter) and gifted it to Partners in June 2018, with the vision of housing and supporting those experiencing homelessness!

“What a blessing to have someone ask ‘what do you need to house more people who don’t have a home?’” shares Jen Theneman, Executive Director for Partners for Affordable Housing. The property had operated as a drive-up motel for more than 70 years, and had great potential for a transitional housing residence, with minimal renovations.”

The vision became a reality on October 1st, when we welcomed our first family into Union Street Place. This newly updated property will house up to 20 emergency shelter guests for up to 90 days while they are supported by our team to overcome barriers to stable housing for themselves and their family.

All of the spaces are targeted at serving those who struggle financially and are working to get to a more stable, sustainable place in their lives, with a focus on single women and families with children. The hope is to obtain additional funding in the future so that all rooms may be available as emergency shelter only.

In December, the caretaker’s apartment will be converted into The Hub, a common space for shelter guests, which will offer a full kitchen, dining and living room space, computer workstations and staff office. Partners has worked to obtain grant funding and private donations to operate it as a shelter, which will utilize seven of the 13 rooms. The remaining 6 spaces include 4 month-to-month low-cost rentals and 2 rooms that are being reserved for a potential collaboration with another non-profit to serve youth fleeing violence.

“The individuals and families that have moved in this month have been so grateful for a private space to rest and regroup,” shares Kelsey Johnson-Rode, Manager of Union Street Place. “While they are here, we can focus on the barriers that keep them not only from stable housing, but other obstacles like loss of a job, a sick family member, bad credit, a car in need of repair, pregnancy and so much more. Unless you’ve struggled with lack of income or housing, you don’t know where to start, and we can help with that during their up to 90-day stay.” Staff work with residents on determining what their needs are and either provide or connect them to obtain and overcome that hurdle. Additionally, residents work on budgets, goal setting, job searching and more. “We cover functional things like employment, budgets and more, and residents can also expect encouragement, kindness and empowerment from our staff; that in itself, can be a game changer for some,” remarks Theneman. “Our residents come for a safe place to stay, and they leave more confident, able to navigate the challenges that the lack of financial resources brings, while knowing how to advocate for themselves and their family.”
UNDER OUR ROOF

We are blessed to do this work! There is no doubt everyday that I know this to be true. It's not all roses though... Everyday we open the door or pick up the phone to help people who are desperate; they are struggling, and don't know how to start to get back on track. Some have experienced unbelievable trauma, discrimination, judgement, addiction, mental illness and abandonment. Others have lost their home to fire, or their loved one got sick and died. Some are experiencing post traumatic stress disorder from their military service, or are fleeing from abuse, while other may experience extreme poverty or job loss. It's hard work, but our programs are necessary to help those who have lost hope remember that they have a bright future.

I’m reminded again and again of our privilege to work with so many amazing people... When a group of friends show up with a stack of gas cards to help people get to and from their jobs; when a team member creatively problem solves to overcome a client’s hurdle; when the newspaper asks us about how to help people in our community understand homelessness; when our Board of Directors commits time to design on our vision for the future; when a young person says 'I want to help others who have less than me;' when a business sponsors an event or writes a check to heat the Welcome Inn for the month; when someone drops off a truck full of furniture; when people attend our fundraisers; when an individual shows up with boxes of hygiene items donated by their friends and family; when a guest that is moving out of our shelter and says 'I don't have enough words to tell you how your team has made a difference in my ability to change the course of my life. I did not have hope, and now I see possibility in every direction.'

Whether you have supported us in the past or are a current donor, I say thank you. We are blessed by your generosity, and I hope that you are blessed by knowing that you are part of an impactful patchwork of support that is a safety net for the greater community. Please consider continued support of our Mission, we need you!

In humble service,
Jen Theneman, Executive Director

Thanks to a grant from the Mankato Area Foundation, Partners' Board of Directors Members and Staff participated in a day-long retreat recently to review our mission, discuss current and future priorities. The group discussed goals related to increasing awareness of homelessness, continuous improvement to provide the most relevant services and support, effective organizational infrastructure, funding gaps and impact on the mission, recruitment and retention of paid staff through more competitive wages and offering benefits.

Snowstorms do not keep Sr. Pauline from arriving each workday to volunteer in our Free Store, a role that she takes very seriously. Sr. Pauline spent nearly 50 years as an Licensed Practical Nurse in Southern MN and IL, and most recently as a medical companion for School Sisters of Notre Dame (SSND). When she was no longer comfortable driving, she needed something closer to home that would fit her organized and caring work ethic. A cornerstone of their commitment, SSND Sisters continue to work as they are able, in service to people with needs in the community.

"This was a good next role for me, because, as a nurse, I had to be very organized," stated Sr. Pauline. "This new vocation allows me to organize, still while serving less fortunate people."

"Everyone who comes to the Free Store to shop or contribute leaves with a smile on their face after interacting with Sr. Pauline," shares Sharon Frahm, Property Manager. "She supports our clients with love in her heart which shines through her eyes and voice. It’s all in a day’s work for her."

Sr. Pauline reflects, "one of my most memorable moments in the store was when a client who was down about giving all of her Christmas décor to her brother to cheer him up found out that she could get a few decorations at our store, she began to perk up and hum Christmas carols."

A FUN & FRIENDLY RACE TO SUPPORT HOMELESSNESS

Calling all friends to pedal to raise money to support our emergency shelter residences
Theresa House and Welcome Inn in Mankato and Union Street Place in St. Peter!

Our 8th Annual Pedal Past Poverty will take place on Saturday, February 22, 2020 at the Mankato YMCA. Imagine being a part of a highly visible, high energy, fun event within our community – to benefit an incredible cause!

We need you to support our impactful mission of housing those who are experiencing financial crises and unable to afford stable housing. We have a big goal ahead of us! We need 40 teams (teams of up to 10) and personal or corporate sponsors to help us reach our goal of $100,000 this year!

Last year, we were not able to cover all of the operational expense of running the shelter through fundraisers and grants – Your financial support is vital in keeping shelter operations in the black. The emergency shelter program is critical to support fresh starts and stability to the women, children and families that don’t have anywhere else to turn.

Anyone can put together a team – whether competitive or for fun – it’s ideal for groups, families, churches, co-workers, neighbors, businesses – our youngest rider last year was 6 and our oldest was 81 years young! For more information about how to put together a team, to sponsor, or support financially, visit www.partnersforhousing.org!
